

VETERINARIAN POSITION

Intensive Livestock

Agrihealth Veterinary Services has an extensive and varied client base across the island of Ireland that involves working with both integrated and smaller independent producers of poultry meat and poultry products.

We are seeking a full time enthusiastic and confident veterinarian to join our team of veterinarians working in the intensive livestock sector.

Ideally, we are looking for someone with an excellent understanding of population medicine and disease management. Previous experience in poultry is preferred but not essential. We would also consider someone with a background in the livestock area who are interested in a change in career direction. Candidates should be computer literate with excellent communication and interpersonal skills.

Full training and support will be provided in the role.

The position is primarily based in Monaghan ROI and involves daily contact with clients for which you need to have a practical approach and the ability to work well within a team of veterinarians, administrators and support staff.

CPD, veterinary insurance and VCI fees will be fully funded.

Remuneration would be competitive, determined by the level of experience and includes a company car (for business and private use), laptop, phone.
